“

Let our clients tell you why

“We want to be able to justify what we are doing and show the impact of our investments. That’s what we got from our involvement with Gauge and measuring the impact of the Care and Repair programme.” Irish Life.

We found working with Gauge to be a rewarding and positive learning experience. We were very satisfied with the process the study took us through and the outcomes and the quality of the final report.” Cedar Foundation.

“Overall, we found working with Gauge to be a very good experience and we particularly appreciated the aftercare in terms of getting the final report right.” Gingerbread NI.

WHY
MEASURE YOUR

IMPACT?

You measure your financial impact through audited accounts.
You measure your environmental impact through examining your carbon footprint and CO² emissions.

So why not measure your Social Impact?

Social impact measurement examines the contribution an organisation makes to its end users, the community it operates within and to society in general.
